Haitham Al-Kamel

Software Developer · Software Engineering Student

PROFILE

Software Developer based in Istanbul and Software Engineering student at Nişantaşı University. I design and develop modern websites, web-based systems and data solutions that are clean, fast and built to grow. Alongside programming, I bring practical strengths in data and accounts management, administration and organization, and Microsoft Excel. I approach every task with analytical thinking: breaking problems down, understanding the real need, and delivering solutions that are simple to use and easy to maintain.
